AUDIENCE & MESSAGING

Top 3 reasons people buy

- Their home smells expensive and guests notice
- Scents help them manifest what they want in life
- Modern design, no water needed, doesn't look cheap, no more mold and bad smell

The 8 pain points (each maps to an angle; every objection is one of these in question form)

- Her home doesn't match the energy she wants to live in. She feels stuck. (A1)
- Fear her home smells flat or bad when guests walk in. No compliments, no impression. (A2)
- Scents that smell chemical or fake, and worry about what she's breathing around kids and pets. (A3)
- Her home feels plain, and real luxury upgrades cost thousands. (A4)
- Diffusers that mold, leak, break, or die after three months. (A5)
- Candles: open flame, soot, smoke, and constant repurchasing. (A6)
- Weak scent she can barely smell. Money wasted on products that do nothing. (A7)
- Fragrance that vanishes in an hour, so the home is never actually "ready." (A2 + A7)

Gifting vs self-purchase

Primarily self-purchase. Gifting is a seasonal secondary angle.

TECHNICAL & OPERATIONAL

- Editor/designer: to confirm
- Timeline: to confirm

- Compliance: no medical or therapeutic claims, no fake urgency or fake sale pricing, offers from the approved stack only. No review or customer counts in creative until we send verified numbers. Manifestation language stays emotional, never a health promise.
